REASON WHY

“The level of urbanisation in China has exceeded 50% and is in rapid development” (*). According to World Bank estimations, nearly half of the world’s new building construction will be in China by 2015: improving energy efficiency of buildings is crucial to achieve Chinese national energy strategy.

As China plans to become a leader in the global green building industry - which promises to be worth hundreds of billions of dollars in a few years - the Government is paying a lot of attention to environmentally friendly technologies, in order to guarantee future generations' harmonious development.

On the other side, Europe's R&D in this sector has given to European companies a clear competitive advantage with highly sophisticated and advanced technologies, combined with unique taste and design.

Although it's getting more accessible, still the Chinese market is yet strictly regulated and hard for foreign companies to enter. This conference aims to give a very first support to those companies who are considering China in their future growth strategy.

ITALYINNOVA will give you the opportunity to:

- ▶ better understand the Chinese lobby system and how it operatively works;
- ▶ get in touch with Chinese key players, both institutions and RE companies;
- ▶ find tangible projects to compete for and reliable business partners to cooperate with.
