Please insert text (not more than 300 words)

Having been in Shenyang for a good number of years now I've seen the Chamber grow steadily as a pillar of support for European businesses, a respected communication channel to the Chinese government and an invaluable resource to the community. I have benefitted from the Chamber for a long time now, and I think it's time to put something back, if I can. Although I'm not a business leader, with my over twenty years' experience living and working in China, I'd like to think I can make a positive contribution to the Chamber as a board member.

Biography

I'm a manufacturing engineer by trade, and I've been working in the electrical transmission industry since 1996. I've lived and worked in China almost continuously in since 1998 in a number of roles at different companies in the electrical transmission industry, and since 2011 in Shenyang at THVS, where I'm manufacturing manager. I speak mandarin, not as well as I should considering how long I've lived here, and I'm originally from Britain (but I voted to remain 😊).
